You're Invited!

Join NCANN, the Northern California Chapter of the National Association of Neonatal Nurses, for an exciting conference in Napa, California. Topics will be presented by a variety of neonatal experts, and will focus on nursing practice, pathophysiology, general assessment and management, professional issues, and psychosocial care of the family in the NICU.

Invite a friend and join us for this invigorating learning experience. Everyone involved in the care of critically ill newborns is welcome. Networking opportunities and vendor exhibits are also available.

*We look forward to seeing you in beautiful
Napa, California!*

CONFERENCE OBJECTIVES

This conference will enable the neonatal clinician to:

1. Apply techniques to care for themselves so they can better care for patients and families.
2. Identify special needs of transgender families in maternal child health.
3. Articulate best practices for neuroprotection in the NICU.
4. Describe updates in cooling infants with HIE.
5. Define the intestinal microbiome of infants.
6. Initiate the development of a parent buddy program in their NICU.
7. Summarize the potential effects of ankyloglossia on breastfeeding.
8. Synthesize clinical information from case studies to improve care in their own NICUs.
9. Apply new methods of non-pharmacological treatment for infants with neonatal abstinence syndrome.
