You're Invited!

We all strive to place the patient at the center of the care we provide to critically ill newborns. As the evidence continues to develop and evolve, we must continue to strive for excellence in nursing practice, parent experience, and patient outcomes.

Join NCANN, the Northern California Chapter of the National Association of Neonatal Nurses for an exciting conference in Napa, California. This conference will provide both the novice and advanced neonatal provider with evidence-based clinical practice information and important concepts to incorporate into practice. Offering a variety of prestigious speakers and nursing leaders, the topics presented will include elements that focus on nursing practice, parent experience, and patient outcomes as a direct result of neonatal nursing care. Join in thought provoking conversations and hear new perspectives on the care we provide everyday.

Invite a friend and plan to join us for this amazing experience. Everyone involved in the care of critically ill newborns is welcome. Networking opportunities are also available for the attendee.   See you in beautiful Napa, California!
